

How do I prove that I have submitted a valid application?

You can prove that you have submitted an application to the EUSS and you are waiting for a decision with your Certificate of Application ('COA')

Remember that your existing rights are protected until the application is decided. Rights are also protected where the outcome of any appeal against a decision to refuse status is pending.

Anyone awaiting the outcome of their application to the EUSS can evidence their rights with their COA which is issued via email or post, after a valid application is received.

A COA is also accessible to view online, through the view and prove your immigration status service.

If you are waiting for your COA, the email acknowledging receipt of your application explains how prospective employers and landlords can request information about your right to work and rent from the Employer Checking Service and the Landlord Checking Service.
