

EU Settlement Scheme (EUSS) aftercare guide

This guide helps you to:

- Access your digital status
- View your digital status
- Prove your digital status
- Update your personal details

It includes a short introduction and a step-by-step guide.

A confident computer or smartphone user, such as a family member or friend, can help you go through this guide.

Disclaimer: Don't share confidential and private information unless it is essential.

If you need further support, check the back of this leaflet.

Access your digital status

If your application is successful, you will receive a confirmation letter via email. However, you cannot use your status letter to prove your right to live in the UK.

Your status is only digital. There is no physical card. It means that you can only view and prove it online.

You need to keep your details updated so that you always have access to your status. Not being able to access your digital status may prevent you from proving your rights in the UK.

You must have independent access to it, through your own email address or phone number, or that of a trusted person.

Why do I need to view or prove my status?

- To view your settled or pre-settled status
- To get a share code to prove your status to others
- To update your personal details
- To check what rights you have in the UK

To access your online status, you need:

The identity document linked to it. Write the number down and keep it safe, in case you lose your document or you are not able to access it.

Your date of birth.

Email address or phone number used for the application.

Prove your status

If you need to prove your immigration status to someone, you can do this online with a share code.

Get a share code

Prove your digital status

1 Click on “Get a share code”. Select the reason why you need to prove your status (e.g to work in the UK).

You will access a page that shows your personal information. This is what the person who will check your status will see after you provide them your share code.

2 You will now see a share code. You will need to provide this share code, as well as your date of birth, to the person requesting your share code.

You will also see the date it expires, 90 days after you have generated the share code.

You can send the code via email.

When you finish, remember to log out especially if you are using a shared device.

What to do next

- 1 Give this share code and your date of birth to the person you want to prove your status to.
- 2 To see your status, they must enter the share code and your date of birth at www.gov.uk/check-immigration-status
- 3 Contact them to make sure they have all the information they need.

To prove your status to someone else, you can re-use this code or create a new code - there is no limit to how many codes can be used at the same time.

Go to

<https://www.gov.uk/evisa/update-ukvi-account> and click on "Update your UKVI account"

Enter your document number, date of birth and email address/phone number.

You will see a page with your personal details, picture and a list of your identity documents linked to your status.

Click on "Add a new identity document" to link a new passport or identity card to your status. You will need to upload a picture of your document.

OR

Click on "Contact details" to change phone number, email address, home and postal address.

Click on "Change", then write your new phone number or email address. You will receive a security code.

OR

Click on "Sign in details" to change the details you use to access your status

Click on "Change" under the detail/info you want to change. Write your new phone number or email address. You will receive a security code.

Update your details

You'll need the details you use to sign in to your UKVI account. This could be your:

- passport
- national identity card
- biometric residence card (BRC) - this can be valid or expired
- expired biometric residence permit (BRP)
- UKVI customer number

You'll also need access to the mobile phone number or email address you use to sign in to your UKVI account.

If you're updating your name, date of birth or nationality then you'll need an identity document that proves that it has changed.

You can only use this service to update your UKVI account details. You cannot update any immigration details, for example a visa or a citizenship application.
